The Nutrient Sensing and Metabolic Signaling Conference

Organizer Bio: Teresa A. Davis, PhD

Teresa Ann Davis, PhD is a Professor of Pediatrics at the USDA/ARS Children’s Nutrition Research Center (CNRC) at Baylor College of Medicine and Adjunct Professor at Texas A&M University. She received her PhD from the University of Tennessee and her postdoctoral training at Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis. She is a pediatric nutrition scientist who is internationally recognized for her novel discoveries of the nutritional regulation of protein metabolism and growth, amino acid sensing, and insulin signaling that are targeted toward improving the nutritional management and lean growth of low birth weight infants and swine. She is Editor-in-Chief of The Journal of Nutrition and a member of the USDA/HHS 2020 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee. She is a Past President of the American Society for Nutrition (ASN) and former member of the Board of Directors of the American Society of Animal Science (ASAS). She has received numerous honors including the Stockstad Award from ASN and the Morrison Award, Fellow Award, and Growth and Development Award from ASAS.
