

The Microbial Glycobiology Conference

---

Organizer Bio: Nick Scott, PhD

Dr. Scott is Laboratory Head at the University of Melbourne in the Department of Microbiology and Immunology. His work focuses on the identification and characterisation of microbial enzymes. The goal of his research is to develop approaches to target enzymes for antimicrobial strategies. Nick is the recipient of a CJ Martin Fellowship, Michael Smith Foundation for Health Research Postdoctoral Fellowship and multiple other awards and grants. He has published multiple research articles.